Quiet Meals at the Clubs to Which Each One Brings Some Special Dainty for the General Palate.

New York's dining season has just he. run. The epicure and connoisseur are really "living" again.

It was a few days ago that several members of the Manhattan Club dined together and enjoyed some rare vintages. There were only a few bottles and a magnum consumed, but they were valued, only sx bottles and one magnum, at over $300. Justice Van Brunt's contribution was a bottle of Moulton Rothschild of 1878. At retail it may be bought for $35. Perry Beimont supplied some Steinberg Cab net of 1862, worth over $1 for each year it lay in the eBlmont cellar; a magnum Chambertin of 1870 was Justice Tru-

A Remarkable Cognac.

William S. Rodie supplied a quart of cognac which was a grateful after dinner treat. It was Chateau deSt. Meme, reserve 1800, and left France years before Napoleon went to St. Heigaa. Experts say that 350 is not too high a price for the brandy.

It was not all drunk, for some of the connolisseurs preferred two fingers of Mr. John F. Gibbona's whiskey, twenty years old, rich and mellow. It costs only $15 a quart, but after all, perhaps the average American's palate would appreciate the rye better than the ancient brandy.

Leake was apparently without heirs, and having died without a will his property in this State and in New Jersey was sold. New York State received $55,605, of which $20,725 was for land in New York City and the remainder for land in Delaware County and in the Adirondiacks.

The Claimants are Mrs. Laura Leake Elisson, the wife of H. Harry Ellison, a druggist doing business in Madison avenue, New ork City: Mrs. Clara Leake Husten, of New Rochelle, and Mrs. Muster the evidence submitted this afternoon was a diary of William Leake, who with his brother, James Leake, erved in the army of Charles the Pretender.

By these two brothers the claimants are endeavoring to establish their relationship with the dead lawyer and their claim to his millions.
